Dear Prime Minister

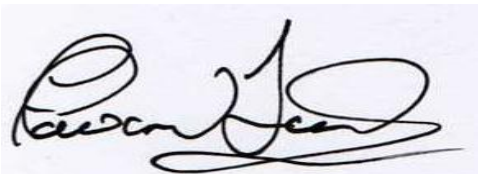

I regret to inform you that you have failed to comply with your complaints procedure. I believe that your predecessor, Mrs May, did the same. This cannot be a coincidence but evidence of two sets of rules; rules that you and your genre choose to ignore for self- protection and an abuse of power. There are other examples with the handling of Dominic Cummings and Priti Patel.

Your government and several of its predecessors have systematically covered up the abuse of those with learning difficulties and autism. Clearly you feel that you are above the law.

Please explain why you will not engage or diagnose these children, and why you have deceived the nation. You did not corrupt the system but knowing that it has been corrupted and not acting is tantamount to child abuse.

I look forward to your response if any.

Yours sincerely,

Howard Lamb
