Dear Prime Minister,

I expect that by now you have started to do something about the lamentable state of care and diagnosis for spectrum/ADHD/special needs children under your protection. Having been so slow to start and then only after pressure (i.e. being told about child abuse and not acting; a probable criminal offence), you will want to do a bit in the back room and make small changes then move on so nothing ever really happens, like normal.

This should not be allowed, considering the damage done to multiple generations going back to Mrs Thatcher and beyond. The whole concept of bad mothers and their scummy naughty children is engrained in the system and needs to change.

I am still waiting for details of your complaints procedure and paperwork. If there is nothing to hide, why are you hiding? As always, I wait for your response within two weeks, as per everyone's protocols and procedures for the complaints process; or do you believe that you are above the law?

Yours sincerely,
