To Tom Whiting, Director General of the IOPC.

Dear Sir,

I have been trying to communicate with Sir Mark Rowley, who has not fulfilled his protocols and procedures after being informed of child abuse. After several letters getting nowhere, I sent a letter of complaint which should have been forwarded to your office according to the police and home office websites. Yet I have not been contacted by your department. Either Sir Mark's office has not complied, or yours has not fulfilled its own protocols and procedures regarding first contact. Please find attached a copy of the letter of complaint I sent to the international criminal court on this subject at The Hague.

A quick response would be greatly appreciated. This letter has been forwarded to The Hague.

Yours sincerely,
