Dear Prime Minister,

You have not complied with the UN treaty on child abuse, whistle-blower protocols, disability legislation, equal opportunities law, and the freedom of information act – all well documented, not forgetting transparency. That is just the minor stuff! Parliament has broken most, if not all, of the ten commandments, so will not worry about crimes against humanity. This has been shown by your actions - by trying to brainwash children to comply with normality without diagnosis or correct treatment affecting hundreds of thousands of children over countless parliaments.

This is not the right example for our great nation and should be changed to comply to the rules and regulations that the rest of us comply to. By inflicting your power over the courts, you have shown that if the government does not like someone, they can stiffen sentences. Law should be equal and balanced, not reactionary.

These are just highlights from my letters to you and others at No. 10 over a number of years. There have been clear breaches of Minister and Prime Minister codes. When you control ethics there is no democracy, just a steady march to totalitarianism.

Hope to catch up for a chat in the New Year, unless you want to cover-up longer.

Yours sincerely,

Howard Lamb
